Clear, beautiful skin

elos™ technology — the synergy of Bi-Polar Radio Frequency and Light energies — treats superficial and benign vascular and pigmented lesions including; Telangiectasias, Rosacea, Poikiloderma and Angioma. Highly selective light energies are absorbed by the hemoglobin and pigmented lesions, but not significantly absorbed by the normal dermis. Electrical energies selectively heat blood vessels — while minimizing effect on pigmented structure.

Safer Solution

The combination of energies offers a complete solution to the challenges of skin treatment with reduced overall required energy output — enabling safe, effective treatment. Most people experience no side effects at all, though a few exhibit some short-term local reddening of the surrounding skin. Treatments require no patient downtime.
